

1. PURPOSE

The purpose of the Association, as an unincorporated association, is to serve the interests of the members through promoting the proper use of IEC 61508 and related standards and helping them to fulfil their functional safety responsibilities in the most cost-effective manner i.e. guidance in compliance.

One of the main purposes of the Association is therefore instigating, defining and / or contributing to Association guidance that can be an output from Association working groups or committees.

The ethos of the Association is to use social interaction and camaraderie (networking) as mutual support on aspects linked to functional safety. This is to say friendly conversations / discussions to provide simple guidance or alternate paths rather than extensive discussions such as free of charge consultancy. This mutual support can be ad-hoc but can also include the setup and support of "interest groups" that allow Association members to meet and / or discuss functional safety related topics.

The Association welcomes members of all functional safety knowledge levels but with the expectation that all members have agreed to learn, develop, grow and contribute. The Association wishes to encourage the development of STEM academic disciplines especially those tied closely to functional safety.

The Association has a long history of contribution to the Conformity Assessment of Safety-related Systems, or CASS, scheme and this continues to be a key tool for delivering our principles.

The four principles of association membership are:

- § Members recognise IEC 61508 and related standards as the benchmark for achieving functional safety and managing risks in a proportionate way
- § When members apply IEC 61508 and related standards they do so properly in all respects relating to their role in the safety life cycle
- § Members demonstrate compliance with IEC 61508 and related standards by using a method which has integrity, transparency and consistency
- § Members participate actively in the work of the Association
